Prepare Basic information Package - Market Idea

Explanation of complaint between customer and invention promoter:

As of 10-23-07 I Wesley V Thomas enlisted the services of this company with the idea after speaking with one of the agents that they could help me patent my idea and also market it for potential assets. After my initial consultation I was convinced that this company could assist me with my idea (I was very enthusiastic at this point. After signing papers and agreeing to invest over 900.00, I later learned from another source that there was a class action law suit filed against these types of companies for misleading people and giving them false hope. This information is also on the Federal Trade Commissions web site. If I had been told that without having a patent there would be no use in my pursuing a portfolio in which I can do nothing with. Nobody has 900.00 to throw away and these companies need to have integrity and morals.
